Certification Course on

"Workplace Leadership Essentials"

THE COLLEGE

Established in 1951 by the PSG & Sons' Charities Trust, PSG College of Technology is a premier government-aided, autonomous institution affiliated to Anna University and ISO 9001 certified. With a strong global alumni network and 48 Centres of Excellence in collaboration with leading industries, the college is renowned for academic excellence, innovation, and leadership. It integrates technological education with human values, shaping graduates with integrity, empathy, and lifelong learning.

THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Humanities enriches technical education by offering courses in Economics, Ethics, Management, Behavioural Sciences, and the Indian Constitution. Alongside academics, the department promotes holistic growth through research, industry collaborations, workshops, and value-added programs. It strives to nurture professionals who combine technical expertise with strong values, social awareness, and leadership abilities to meet the demands of a globalized world.

THE COURSE

This course focuses on enhancing workplace effectiveness and cultivating leadership skills essential for professional growth. It covers workplace dynamics, communication, problem-solving, and relationship management to help participants excel in organizational settings. With emphasis on adaptive leadership, decision-making, and influencing across teams, the program prepares learners to meet contemporary workplace challenges. The objective of this course is to develop future-ready professionals who demonstrate integrity, initiative, trust, and credibility in their leadership roles.
